ANNOUNCEMENT

The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation is pleased to announce that longtime Panel staff attorney Josh R. Bullock has accepted its offer to become the new Panel Executive. In this capacity, Mr. Bullock will act as the Panel’s Chief Executive Officer and Chief Legal Counsel and will direct all Panel staff activities.

“Josh Bullock is a talented professional who we are confident will wisely lead the Panel’s top-notch attorneys and staff in the coming years. He has the confidence and best wishes of the entire Panel.” said Karen K. Caldwell, Chair of the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

Mr. Bullock has served as the Acting Panel Executive since December 2023, and he brings with him nearly two decades of experience working with multidistrict litigation as a staff attorney at the Panel. Mr. Bullock is a graduate of Saint Louis University, where he received a B.A. in Political Science. He received his J.D. from the University of Missouri—Columbia School of Law, where he was a Note & Comment editor of the Missouri Law Review.

Mr. Bullock hails from Camdenton, Missouri, and he brings to his new position a lifetime of public service and a long commitment to the judicial branch. Before joining the Panel in 2005, he worked as an Assistant Attorney General in Litigation Division of the Office of the Attorney General of Missouri and as a law clerk to the Honorable Catherine D. Perry of the Eastern District of Missouri. He also serves as a member of the editorial board of the Missouri Bar Journal.

“The Panel plays a vital role in the conduct of complex and multidistrict litigation across the country. Working with so many talented jurists, professionals, and the Panel’s first-rate staff over the past nineteen years has offered me substantial insight into how the mission of the Panel can best be accomplished.” Mr. Bullock said. “I am honored to be chosen for this important position, and I am excited to get to work.”
